

HOLIDAY CARDS

Olga Shmuylovich

The credit for triggering the Holiday Cards series should go to my late Father Yakov Shmuylovich.

In 1981, my Father asked me to make, for him, some Jewish Holiday cards – no such things could be found to buy in the stores of the Soviet Russia.

Not having an access to printing work-shops, I made up “stones”, carved them, and hand-printed a number of monoprints.

The series Holiday Cards keeps running, since then: different techniques, various occasions.

Some Holiday Cards get incorporated into the “Compositions with Holiday Cards” under the different subtitles (“Lightcarriers”, etc.).
